

the act of leadership

Mastering the art of authenticity

The Act of Leadership is a powerful, experiential program for those who want nothing less than a paradigm shift in how they show up in the world.

We live in a time that challenges us out of our comfort zones to dare live in a way that is boldly authentic. From that radical place, we can engage each other in ways that tap into our deepest yearnings and creativity, and fulfill a desire to make the world a better place by doing great things. So, why not be great?

This workshop is about impact

It's about your impact on the world, your impact in your organisation, and your impact on all your relationships. And it's about being a leader, and the practice of effective leadership in all aspects of your life.

Beyond a workshop, this is an opportunity and a challenge to sharpen your skills in how to remain present, awake and aware in any situation.

Why now is the time...

It's a time of dramatic change both economically and socially. A time in which it is essential to be fully present and authentically stick out as a Leader.

This workshop also provides you with the resilience you need to survive in today's challenging world.

The Act of Leadership is a perfect follow up for people who have taken coaching courses...

Coaching courses brilliantly teach coaches how to be over there with the client, really homing in on expanding the magnificent lives of the people they coach.

The Act of Leadership workshop, created by Eric Kohner (sr. leader for CTI), specifically focuses on who you need to be in order to be a powerfully great leader and coach.

Done in a profound yet playful environment, the program uses acting skills and techniques to develop your true authentic self.

This two-day course is designed to train you in the same powerful skills used by the great actors and directors of our time...

You can expect your experience to include vigorous, in-the-body learning where you will practice and apply actor training methods to create your own role as leader.

We create the space to free you to explore the wildest, zaniest, shyest and scariest parts of yourself, and to manifest what is dynamic about... YOU!

Testimonials

“As a result of this eKCourse I have stopped looking for the perfect leader role model. I know now I can trust myself. That’s very liberating”

Hege Sitje; General Manager and Coach at Erogo; ego

“The Act of Leadership is far beyond a workshop. It’s the start of a process of realisation that everything we do in life is our own ACT. The fantastic trainer will challenge you to master your acts... and re-act”

Gabby Staal; VP ABN-Amro, the Netherlands
